

A parent's perspective

by Tracey Gardine

"How many sleeps 'til school starts?" asked my son Phoenix regularly throughout the holidays. Coming from a boy who had been extremely unenthusiastic about starting kindy, this was music to my ears.

I had been concerned for a long time about where he would go to school. I wanted a school that would recognise, encourage and nurture my child's individuality rather than just push him through the 'sausage machine' as so many schools seem to. I wanted Phoenix to love learning.

We were living in North Queensland, but I was ready to move if I found the right place. Did such a school exist?

And then I found the website for Tunttable Falls Community School.

Tunttable Falls seemed to tick every box and the more I read, the more excited I became. It was small, incorporated outdoor learning, recognised the importance of play. Gardening, cooking and circus were part of the curriculum. Like me, this school believed education should be fun!

With much excitement (and a little nervousness) we packed everything into a van, said farewell to loved ones and headed for Nimbin.

What a wonderful decision we made! The school is even better than we imagined and the staff, children and parents have invited us into the beautiful school family. We have made true friends and feel loved – we feel we have come home.

As Phoenix says, "My school is awesome!" I would recommend it to anyone looking for a unique educational experience.

To find the truth within, in the body

That quest for truth as well as for healing has been a meaningful part of my life and I think there are many souls out there who can relate to that. Somewhere along the journey, I found that I can rely on my body. Messages conveyed by the body are unconditionally truthful. If we carefully listen to our inherent truth, some healing is bound to happen because the blueprint of our individual functioning is stored in the body's memory. To be able to listen to our being in this way, we need to be in touch with the subtler realities within. This may need some practice, or an experienced practitioner at hand.

I would like to introduce a very potent meditation practice that has served me well in finding truthful answers as well as healing. I feel increasingly grateful that I got in contact with Vipassana Meditation as taught by S. N. Goenka. At the time I was ready to embrace a spiritual path and felt immediately attracted to the technique as it is simple and doesn't involve dogma, cult, blind beliefs or business. Instead, the truth about mind and body is realized by direct experience only.

Due to the goal of Vipassana meditation, which is not just to calm the mind, but to purify it from all negativities, increased happiness occurs fairly soon. It also nurtures compassion towards oneself and all other beings. Vipassana, a word from ancient India, means 'to see things as they are'.

The objects of concentration are the natural breath and the sensations we feel within the framework of the body. Both are direct links between mind and body. It becomes self-evident how mental strains turn into physical ones. Triggered by blind reaction, they multiply and turn into knots and bundles of knots. Vipassana deals with them by observing the reality objectively without reacting to it. Imagine you could watch anxiety or depression arise, stay for some time and eventually pass away, without reacting to it...

Yes, it is challenging, but also extremely rewarding. Patience and a fairly balanced mind are great companions on this journey. As one gets confronted with mental and physical tensions, there's bound to be some discomfort. The boiling of anger for example, becomes a very tangible experience. This is where most of us cop out, behave badly or drown the experience in either activity or substances. But isn't it good to know that we can change our ways rather than staying trapped in blind reaction? We might as well, because no one else can do it for us. The joy of liberation and its effect on mind and body are beyond description.

Vipassana is taught in ten-day residential courses. Centres are solely run by volunteers. There is no charge for teaching, food or accommodation. All expenses are met by students who, having completed a course, wish to contribute for coming students to benefit in a similar way. To make best use of the time, many rules apply. It's important that everyone agrees to them before joining a course. Children and teenagers learn to meditate on their breath in one- or two-day courses. More info at: www.dhamma.org

The award-winning film 'Doing Time, Doing Vipassana' about Vipassana courses being conducted in a large Indian prison, is available on Youtube.

*I am a practitioner of Biodynamic Craniosacral Therapy, which is gentle body work that involves listening to the body's messages in order to generate healing. I would be interested in a local group sit with other "old students" of Vipassana in the Nimbin area. ## Healthy thyroid, healthy hormones

Some years ago, I was researching to discover why so many of my patients had been diagnosed with either Graves disease or a serious thyroid imbalance. I discovered that scientists were seeing a correlation between thyroid irregularities and a specific flame retardant chemical.

The thyroid gland produces a hormone that regulates the metabolism. Any imbalance causes hyper or hypothyroidism. Hyperthyroidism causes rapid heartbeat, sweating, tremors, anxiety, increased appetite, rapid loss of weight and intolerance of heat, while hypothyroidism causes cold hands and feet and an inability to get warm, slow thinking processes and a lack of energy.

Additional symptoms include swelling of the neck from enlargement of the gland (goitre) and protrusion of the eyes, both of which can also be caused by an autoimmune thyroid problem called Graves disease.

Women find it very difficult to conceive if they have thyroid disorders, which should tell us just how important the thyroid gland is to keep all hormones balanced in both humans and animals.

Surgeons like to remove the gland of Graves disease sufferers, or to destroy it with radioactive Iodine. It can be controlled medically by taking Thyroxin and having frequent eye checks. But much more importantly, it can also be controlled naturally.

Brominated flame retardant has been known to cause thyroid disorders for many decades. Bromide is highly toxic. It is used to fumigate your property for cockroaches, mice and other pests. And it is dropped on bushfires.

All synthetic and children's clothing in Australia must be treated with this flame retardant by law. And it is now found in paint, carpet, fabrics, plastics and many other materials. Tents, cabins, boats, interiors of aircraft, trains and cars are all treated with these chemicals. They never wash out. They are also in Fanta.

Recent tests on school age children found these chemicals to be 75% higher than their parents. Surely, this must send alarm bells ringing with concern for the fertility and thyroid health of our children.

Prevention is always far better than cure. There are natural ways to keep the thyroid gland healthy with the food we eat and if we have a healthy thyroid gland, we will also keep our reproductive system healthy. And on that point, the physician who taught me showed me that each organ has different nutritional needs.

by Robin Stein
Homeopath healer

If we dissect the thyroid gland, we'd discover it contains higher levels of copper, selenium, zinc and iodine than any other minerals. It also contains high levels of one amino acid called L-Tyrosine. Tyrosine is found in a wide variety of protein-rich food.

Sea vegetables like kelp, nori seaweed and dulce help greatly. And not only because they are rich in iodine. Ocean water is similar in make-up to the plasma of the blood. It contains all the minerals in which our soils are deficient, in the correct balance. Kelp has the added advantage of removing aluminium and some other heavy metals from the body.

Three organic brazil nuts daily will provide the body with the correct amount of copper and selenium, as well as some zinc, which plays an important role in sperm production. Oysters are renowned for containing high levels of zinc, as are wheat germ, pumpkin seeds, peanuts, dark chocolate, beef, lamb and veal liver.

Far better to "avoid" heavily brominated clothing and building materials altogether. Please avoid bushfire areas, too. Remember, if you keep your thyroid gland healthy, you will also stay younger far longer as well. It's not rocket science!

Tunable preschoolers learn Spanish

by Silvia Carina Bustos De Tribolet, Preschool educator

For a few years now, we have been teaching Spanish to our preschoolers. Everyday words, actions and familiar objects within the preschool environment, as well as songs, have been introduced to the children.

I recently visited my home country of Argentina and took this opportunity to facilitate a cultural exchange with a local preschool in Rosario, La Osa Gregoria.

The children of Tuntable Preschool had made a felt banner as a gift for the children of the school, and while I was there I sang songs from Australia and taught the children simple English words and sentences, as well as the names of Australian animals.

As part of this exchange, we now communicate regularly via email and post, sending drawings and interesting information about each country. The children have observed many similarities, especially songs: Insy Winsy Spider is Insy Winsy Arana in Spanish; Where is Thumbkin is Donde esta el dedo Gordo.

Other similarities include painting with hands and feet, and working with wood.

We have found that having this connection with a Spanish-speaking school in another country is a wonderful way to make the Spanish learning experience more meaningful, relevant and rewarding for the children.

"Silvia, we did hand and feet painting today! Same like those children," said Tahne, talking about these children at the La Osa Gregoria preschool in Rosario, Argentina.

Creating music notation

by Diane Arthur, Nimbin Preschool

There are many varied ways that children notate their thinking.

The most obvious forms of notation are image-making using drawing and painting. But there are others. Notating the music that you are creating is thinking of the sound as having form and structure.

When children notate their music, we observe a level of thinking that transcends traditional music notation, because they are in the very act of designing the sound as a visual form.

In the picture we see Celeste designing the visual form of the sounds she is playing. This design is far from being random. It is a purposeful action whereby each child listens attentively to the sound they choose to make on the piano, and then how they represent the sound as form when it is scribed by them.

Their differing notation styles are theories of what sound looks like.

Child care orientation available

by Carina

I am taking over as the director of Nimbin Child Care Centre while Elissa is on maternity leave.

We have had such a busy month this month, and I've really enjoyed getting to know the children and the community.

We have adventured over to the park for a little excursion which was lots of fun, running around and playing together. We have also had a lot of craft experiences and experimenting with different ideas such as salt painting.

For NAIDOC Week, we cooked damper, made snakes out of playdough and collaged using red, yellow and black paper.

The centre is filling up quickly, so if you would like your child to come an experience a centre-based childcare and education, please feel free to call on 6689-0142 for further information and availability.

If you would like to get to know us and the group, please call to book in for Wednesday mornings orientation between 10.30-11.30am.

Nimbin Garden Club notes

by Sharon Whalley

The Nimbin Garden Club July visit to Anna Kowalczyk's property at Whian Whian took place on a wintery afternoon on 18th July. The windy cold weather did not deter the approximately 25 enthusiastic garden club members from enjoying the stroll around the 12 acres of fruit orchards and permaculture gardens.

It has taken 25 years to nurture the property to become the productive garden it has become today. The property was originally part of a larger cattle farm where all the trees had been cleared and the ground compacted. Anna has assistance in the garden from a worker from outside along with help from her children and grandchildren.

Anna's extraordinary knowledge about exotic fruits, vegetables and medicinal plants was truly fascinating. The range of food trees that Anna grows is awe-inspiring. These include mangoes, citrus trees, Natal plums, soursops, Malabar Chestnuts, Cherimoyas, bananas, jaboticabas, Cherry Rio Grandes to name just a few!

The beautiful red soil was admired by many of the garden club members. The large vegetable garden was bordered by lemon grass and had neat rows of carrots, peas, parsley, rocket, radishes, beetroot, broccoli, kale as well as two types of garlic and a crop of turmeric which was being harvested.

Anna has a large composting area and has very little waste with the chickens (Isa Browns, White Sussex and Cream Legbar) getting scraps and the rest going to compost. Anna has extensive areas of comfrey which she uses as an effective compost accelerator. Other compost activators that Anna recommended to the Garden Club members are tansy and yarrow.

Thanks to garden club member, Nola and to Bunnings in Lismore for their generous donation of goods for our fundraising raffle.

Our next garden visit is Dick and Gillian Jones's property on Saturday 15th August from 2pm until 4pm at 327 Crofton Road – look out for the Nimbin Garden Club signs. This garden is a gem with stone garden edges surrounding beautiful plantings nestled between two tributaries of Goolmangar Creek. Old and new members are welcome! Don't forget to bring a cup and chair as well as a small plate for afternoon tea to share. No pets please.

The Pope, the coke and Limbo

by Terry Beltrane

The Pope, last month, visited Bolivia whose capital city, La Paz, is the highest, at 3650 metres, in the world. The Minister for Cultural Affairs suggested to the Pope (God's mouthpiece) that he would be served coca tea to alleviate altitude sickness, to which the Pope responded he'd prefer to have a chew on the leaf of one of Mother Nature's gifts.

Born in Argentina, where chewing coca leaf is permitted for the indigenous people in the northern parts of that country (but not for non-indigenous citizens), the Pope, with his philosophy of relating and having contact with the poor and disenfranchised, has most probably had previous exposure in having a chew.

It just might be that with his regular imbibing of the sacramental wine at all those masses, he needs a little stimulus via a taste of organic coke? Or maybe he just likes the stuff! Regardless, Pope Frank is the mouthpiece for God, and according to Catholic doctrine, the Pope is infallible – he can make no mistake because he hears directly from God, and then relays the message on to the 'believers'.

Now, up until Frank's predecessor (John), there existed a place called "Limbo". Within the doctrine of the Catholic church there are four destinations after you've fallen off the mortal twig: Hell, where the "bad" guys go and who are beyond rehabilitation; Heaven, where the "good" guys who have confessed their sins get a free pass; Purgatory, where the guys go who've made a couple of misdemeanours and are considered capable of rehabilitation and then get into Heaven; and Limbo.

Now this is a bit tricky. You see, within the Catholic church every person is born with "original sin". In other words, all you have to do is be a foetus and they already have you by the short and curlies. But you really haven't done anything "bad". So you don't qualify for Hell, Heaven or Purgatory. So your soul goes to this place of "nothingness" for eternity. I mean, that's it. This is your lot – forever.

So all these infallible Popes over the last two thousand years were suddenly proven wrong with the decree by Pope John saying that Limbo no longer exists. He simply just eradicated it; and now Frank has to roll with the new scene. No wonder he's into the vino and wants a chew – who wouldn't, with that kind of bullshit you have to deal with.

So we've got a few billion baby souls, all in an instant, set free and get a "do not pass go and collect $200" – and they're queueing at the gates of Heaven waiting to get in, after a couple of thousand years, for some good times. I can only try to imagine the conversation between the Pope and God.

"Frank, WTF (no disrespect to Nimbin's Print Shop)? You know we run a tight ship up here and now we've got a log jam of a few billion babies screaming and crying out, giving Paul and Peter at the gates, a frinkin' migraine. Not to mention the guys who have a free pass to Heaven are truly pissed off with the queue. Ya' shoulda gotten onto this debacle of John's the moment you took over. Jesus Christ (sorry Son), we've got a serious accommodation issue here, not to mention souls don't lactate – how do we feed these poor little suckers? I need some drugs."

Ergo, Frank! Have a drink and a chew.

ASTRO FORECASTS

by Tina Mews

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN THE HEAVENS?

Aries

Mars enters Leo on August 9 (until September 26) suggesting that you have a strong need for excitement and creative self-expression. However, Venus retrograde suggests that you may only desire what truly gives joy to your heart. This may be a period in which you choose to refocus your creative impulse and redefine what is essential for your happiness while listening to your inner self.

Taurus

The Venus retrograde phase (until September 6) takes your focus back to your home and domestic affairs, but also to your internal reality. You might contemplate how to make your living space a reflection of your true needs. During this period, you might consider what you want to hold on to and what you want to let go, based on what is most supportive to you on an emotional and spiritual level.

Gemini

During the Venus retrograde period you might find it helpful to reflect on your mental growth and development. Your lifelong love for learning might be tested as you are asked to prioritise and distinguish between deep exploration of areas close to your heart and superficial entertainment. It is a good time for examining your own views and beliefs, going right back to their original source.

Cancer

The Venus retrograde phase is a great period for reflecting the values that are most important to you. During this period you are asked to reflect on what makes you feel happy and fulfilled. You are asked to balance your need for possessions and financial security with the need for a solid emotional and spiritual foundation. Have faith in your inner wealth and intuitive abilities.

Leo

Venus is retrograde in your sign until September 6. This is a great period for refining your personal image and working on your self-expression, while allowing abundance and new opportunities entering your life. The first week of the month is perfect for establishing a solid foundation on which to form committed and lasting relationships. The dance is between exuberance and realistic expectations.

Virgo

The Venus retrograde phase coincides with Jupiter's entry into Virgo (read above). New opportunities will reveal themselves during the next 12 months. However, the next five weeks might be a time best spent in waiting, a period of gestation, when it is difficult to make clear decisions. Things can be left alone for a while and they will grow according to their own timing.

August

At the moment the Sun passes through Leo, the sign that feels most at ease with the fiery and life giving solar energies. Leo is the sign of the Sun, the central heart of the solar system. Ancient wisdom teaches that the impulse to develop an independent ego entered our earthly plane many thousand years ago in the age of Leo. In ancient mysteries the lion denoted the fearlessness of someone who was imbued with divine truth. Courage lives in the heart and in medical astrology Leo rules the heart. Individuals with a strong Leo signature in their chart function best when they feel at centre stage and can radiate their unique life force for the benefit of all. Leo is also associated with the solar plexus, the domain of the 'old brain', the fire in the belly and seat of our impulses, desires and passions. Leos are destined to use their emotional strength and apply it unconditionally for the good of all, connecting this sign symbolically to the archetype of the noble ruler who is generous and kind and is able to serve others. On the downside, Leos can be stubborn, tyrannical and self-obsessed.

August starts with Sun, Mercury, Venus and Jupiter in Leo kindling our desires for fun, exuberance and creative activities. Nevertheless, the overall atmosphere of this month guides us towards revision of our values, long-term goals, relationships and finances. The current Venus retrograde phase that began July 25 coincides with a closing square between Jupiter and Saturn, exact on August 3, followed by two more exactly alignments in March and May 2016. The 20 year Jupiter/Saturn cycle has been regarded as most important in the development of humanity and creation of reality as we experience it. It symbolises the interaction of ideas, opportunities and potentialities (Jupiter) and their manifestation into the concrete world (Saturn). It concerns itself with the development and evolution of social structures (Saturn) based on current belief systems (Jupiter). When every 20 years Jupiter and Saturn conjoin in the heavens, they mark the beginning of a new cultural, political, and economic era. The last conjunction occurred in 2000, when Jupiter and Saturn conjoined in Taurus, an earth sign. During the last 15 years we have witnessed the expansion of societal infrastructure globally, with substantial wealth creation, extensive land grabs for mining etc and territorial disputes. We now enter the last phase of this cycle, which is associated with economic downturn and recession. The next conjunction will be in Aquarius (2020) symbolising a much needed shift in consciousness, including rapid social progress, significant intellectual developments, and innovative concepts that finally become mainstream; e.g. the transition to renewable energies will become an undeniable reality, even on our side of the globe!

Jupiter enters industrious Virgo on August 11 (until 9 September 2016). Jupiter's orbit around the Sun takes 12 years; the last time Jupiter was in Virgo was during late August 2003 – September 2004. This is the planet of expansion and growth, ruling the bigger picture, our faith and beliefs. In Virgo Jupiter gets more down-to-earth, inspiring us to work out details and be practical about our ideas. Good-luck and positive outcomes (Jupiter) come from being diligent and applied (Virgo). During Jupiter's stay in Virgo we have a greater willingness to be disciplined and productive. It might be a good time to focus on becoming skilled, improve a skill, or add a new technique to our repertoire.

Venus turned retrograde on July 25 (until September 6). When Venus is retrograde in the sky, we might find it easier to reconnect with our inner self and reflect on what makes us happy and fulfilled. It is a time when our soul is getting in touch with what holds the most meaning for us. We can find out about whether we are getting our essential needs met, and a time when our core self is in the process of making changes to support those values. There is a need to redefine the meaning and significance that any relationship has for us. We might attract people into our lives, with whom there is "unfinished business"; we can address it throughout these 6 weeks. During August 1-7 Venus is conjunct Jupiter and square Saturn; putting our ideas into reality is possible if we can raise our heart's vibration and think from the heart-mind (Venus in Leo). On August 16, Venus conjoins the Sun, when she undergoes her transition from evening rising to becoming the morning star about a week later. The Leo New Moon on August 15 is trine Uranus and conjunct retrograde Venus, inspiring us to approach our relationships and creative projects from a different, more fulfilling angle. Our heart connection with people who really matter can deepen now, while those who don't might just dissolve. The Full Moon on August 29/30 in Pisces, increases our imagination and our desire for wholeness and healing. It is a good day for relaxation, meditation or spending time near the ocean. Neptune, the mythic planet of dreams is conjoining the Moon, setting the mood for being rather than doing.

Plans, directions, concerns contact Tina on 6689-7413 or 0457-903-957, email: star-loom@hotmail.com "The Astrological Signs" Saturday, August 8, 10am – 4pm; please contact Tina for info and bookings.

Libra

A good time for sorting out friendships and social networks. Your social needs have shifted according to changes in life circumstances making space for new friends while old ones might have left, or become less important. During the first week of the month, friends from the past might re-enter your life, adding extra spice and colour to your reality and paving the way for a great get-together.

Scorpio

During this Venus retrograde period reflect upon your place in the world and how others value or see you. It is helpful to reflect about what success means to you and which areas in your life matter most. Redefine your goals and clarify expectations that you have placed on yourself and others. Potentially a very productive period; unfinished business can be completed and new seeds planted.

Sagittarius

While Venus is retrograde (until September 6) best to keep focused on what is essential instead of envisioning big plans. Your values and beliefs are shifting, asking you to make adjustments accordingly. Goals that mattered before lost their magnetism and your dedication. There is an inner re-orientation which will reveal a new vision and sense of purpose. Allow it to happen.

Capricorn

During this Venus retrograde period (until September 6) you may revisit those things in life that brought happiness before. A great time for dealing with unfinished business from the past and sorting out old relationship issues. Reflect on those values you shared with others and once gave you a sense of fulfillment. You might have to address your own pride before making the next step on the ladder of psycho-spiritual accomplishment.

Aquarius

During this Venus retrograde period (until September 6) your most intimate relationship is under review. You might be reflecting on your deepest values and needs that you may want to share and experience with another. By nature you are an individualist and find it difficult to compromise. Relationship teaches you to love from the heart. The greatest obstacle is your over-active head.

Pisces

During this Venus retrograde period you may have to review your daily life and work methods. You might find that you do not get the resonance that you need for keeping the energy flowing. It might be that your daily routine requires an upgrade so that it becomes fulfilling and inspiring again. Re-discover your artistic talent and re-direct your fertile imagination into a creative project that benefits others as well as yourself.

She says / HE says

Dear SSHS,
I recently came home from work to find my girlfriend had cleaned and tidied up in my shed. After protesting and complaining to her about invading my personal space, she went home upset and now won't talk to me. Am I being unreasonable? – Bob D. Builder

She says

Opposites attract but sometimes the other seems so utterly alien – dare I say beastly, that it is hard to imagine how we manage to co-exist and never is this more apparent than in men's sheds.

They entertain their mates in this no-neatness, oestrogen-free zone where they can smoke inside, ash on the floor and flick butts at each other. A place where the more empty beer bottles, the more homely it feels. Where disarray and filthiness are the sought-after touches of a man's paradise. Married women know the wisdom of giving them their time out with their boy's toys. When they are ready (hopefully) they emerge happy, ready and able to share, and even enjoy, the rollercoaster ride of living with a woman.

Girls, don't think you're doing him a favour by cleaning his shed. You're wasting your time. If he's anything like my husband he will resent it and say you've "committed a neatness" and accuse you of turning into his mother. There is nothing that kills romance faster than this thought.

Men need their dirty dungeons where they can hibernate away from the cares of the ordered world. In his own way it is ordered. We just can't see it. Do something nice for yourself so you will be in good humour when he eventually emerges.

Bob, your question depends on just how filthy your shed is. If it's a home for rats and mice and an immediate fire hazard, then you should be grateful for her loving act of service. You might ask her to tell you if and when she is likely to recommit this offence so you can clean up the disgusting, unmentionable things that I'm sure you have in there. Try to make love, not war. Hell, do both, get married!

He says

Dear Bob, much has been written on the importance for a man to have a shed, a den, a mancave, call it what you like. It is a place where (aside from the toilet) a man can be alone with his thoughts and be his slovenly filthy self. In your shed you can be master of your domain. You're the boss. You can make as much mess as you like with absolute impunity. You can keep things in there that no-one else should know about. Yep, it's your little kingdom, right? Wrong!!

Let me explain. When you are in a 'normal healthy relationship' with a girlfriend/wife it's like living in a communist state. She becomes the State, and the State has a hand in every facet of your life. So your shed is no longer your shed, it's a State run facility.

I remember when my wife first cleaned up my shed, I thought I'd been burgled. Couldn't find anything and the place looked empty, cold and uninviting. But, after a few days I had it all back to normal. That's the trick Bob, keep messing it up again and she'll soon tire of 'being your mother'.

A final thought. If your girlfriend is willing to clean up your shed for you, she's sending you a very strong message pal. So get out your chippy's pencil and some scrap timber, and carefully plan your next move, before the shit really hits the fan.

On a sunny but cold, windy morning, fourteen walkers set out from Don Durrant's place at Afterlee to walk through his rainforest. Don is a local cattleman and conservationist, having protected in perpetuity 400 acres of his property west of Kyogle as a rainforest sanctuary for native flora and fauna. On a long and sometimes muddy walk (there had been a storm the night before) we were to see how he has preserved and regenerated large tracts of forest.

After descending a deep valley we encountered a pretty stone-lined creek with two species of a rare Bolwarra, a primitive Gondwanaland plant that flowers but has no petals as we know them. We continued, finding gingers, cordylines, bangalows as well as walking stick palms scattered among the trees. We then started uphill along the boundary fence of a neighbouring grazing property, which was in stark contrast to Don's rainforest. We also passed regeneration areas that had been cleared of lantana and other weeds and where native species had been planted by the thousands.

We then arrived at a picnic area shaded by a huge fig tree where we gathered our breath and had lunch with Don continuing to explain his conservation techniques. After lunch he took us to the newest regeneration area where he had just planted sixteen hundred (yes, 1600!) native seedlings, mostly propagated by him but some bought from Daley's nursery and some from Burringbar nursery. An interesting aspect of the regen program is that Don has hosted overseas backpackers to help with the time-consuming job of planting.

After this we wended our weary way back through the extant rainforest and observed a number of curious strangler figs with spiral roots wrapped around their host to form intriguing sculptures. In this area we also observed multi-coloured pigeons feasting on the plentiful rainforest food. We would have seen many more species including wallabies and pademelons, if we had not been chattering enthusiastically as we went along.

We finally got back to our parked vehicles via some very muddy tracks, which evidenced the rich red soil that nurtures this natural wonderland. Our exhaustion from simply walking all day made us appreciate all the more the heroic effort required to preserve and regenerate such a large tract of land for future generations. We thanked Don with a true appreciation of why he has become a local legend!

Tales of powerful women

Reviewed by Jannine Kitson

Just a Queen and Summer of Monsters: The Scandalous Story of Mary Shelley are enjoyable and empowering novels for women of all ages. Both are based on the lives of famous women: Queen Elizabeth I (1533-1603) and Mary Shelley (1797-1851).

Elizabeth I and Mary Shelley shared many things: both had "scandalous" mothers who died young; Elizabeth's mother, Anne Boleyn, beheaded by order of her father, Henry VIII, and Mary's mother, Mary Wollstonecraft, losing her life in childbirth. Both Elizabeth and Mary had weak fathers who abandoned them to cruel and lonely childhoods.

Both fathers destroyed the mothers' reputations: Henry VIII accused Anne Boleyn of adultery; William Godwin diminished Mary Wollstonecraft's achievements as a philosopher and feminist by publishing a scandalous biography of her.

Both young women were exceptionally intelligent and insightful about the sexual politics of their time that effectively repressed women. Elizabeth astutely avoided scandal, knowing how dangerous it was to her authority as a queen. Mary Godwin chose a scandalous life, running off with married poet Percy Bysshe Shelley. Despite challenges, her relationship with Percy provided her with the experience and insight to write her ground-breaking novel, Frankenstein.

Both women had a strong commitment to improving society. Elizabeth hated war and endeavoured to create a stable and peaceful society. Mary Shelley was wary of the devastating impact that the Industrial Revolution had on people's humanity.

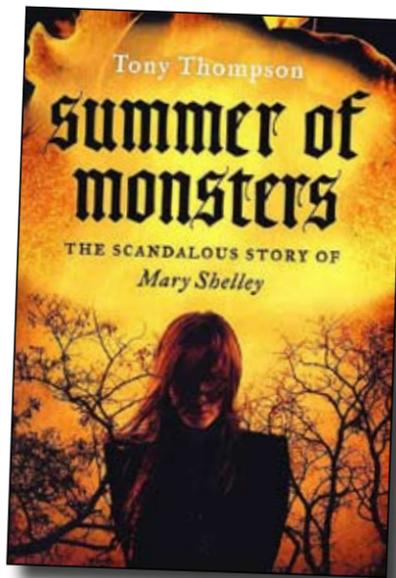

Both lived at a time when having a child was a life-threatening experience for most women.

The two novels look at how scandal shapes women. Mary succumbed to love and scandal but learned and grew from it. Elizabeth determinedly avoided it, knowing too well that scandal can so easily destroy a woman.

Just a Queen by Jane Caro (University of Queensland Press, 2015) is not about "just" a queen. Elizabeth is an extraordinarily talented and astute queen who reveals her inner thoughts as she navigates the precariously dangerous male world of power in which women – if they make mistakes, like Mary Queen of Scots or Anne Boleyn – can literally lose their lives.

Elizabeth's reign begins in the shadow of religious fundamentalism and fanaticism that threatens to divide the nation with civil war. Elizabeth is a woman in power but she is all too cognisant that men are fickle in their loyalties to women. The story revolves around the pressure Elizabeth receives from her advisers to execute her cousin Mary Queen of Scots. Standing in the shadow of her mother's death, she stubbornly refuses to act.

Elizabeth must also face constant pressure to marry and produce an heir – but she is far too clever for that, knowing that a husband would undermine her authority and lead to political instability.

Just a Queen is a wonderful insight into a woman who applied intelligence to her life. Author and public education advocate Jane Caro dedicates the book to every woman and girl who has ever stood up for herself. A great read.

Summer of Monsters: The Scandalous Story of Mary Shelley by Tony Thompson (Black Dog Books, 2014) focuses on the scandalous events in Mary Godwin's life that lead her to write her ground-breaking novel Frankenstein that challenges science and the Industrial Revolution.

Mary falls in love with the famous Romantic poet, Percy Bysshe Shelley, and runs off with this married man to live a transient life in Europe. During one summer, they holiday with England's greatest poet, Lord Byron, who challenges his guests to write a ghost story.

This leads Mary to write the novel that would make her more famous than either of her parents, a book that would last as long as anything written by Percy or Byron. Mary had begun to write Frankenstein.

Flavour of the month – Algae

Some culinary seaweeds: Wakame, kombu and dulse

by Thom Culpeper

The sea will have to, in the future, supply an ever-increasing amount of necessary food for human nutrition. With sound management, these marine resources will come to be one of the answers to this demand.

Australia should consider increasing the development of this form of aquaculture. Carbon fixation is a side benefit.

Wakame, Miyok, Undaria pinnatifida. The delicately textured blades (leaves) are the used fresh or dried. They are used in miso and aemeno soups in Japan. In Korea, they are used commonly in fermented Kimchi, stewed with rice vinegar or cooked with bamboo shoots to soften the tough fibre. Toasted and ground into powder, they are used as a flavour enhancer in Chazuke broth (replacing mono glutamate) as a garnish for brown rice and root vegetable dishes.

Ita wakame is toasted and used as a rice wrap. Kiki wakme – the mid rib, is salted or pickled in rice vinegar as a delicacy. This seaweed is now cultured in Tasmania for export to Japan and Korea. It's now being found in specialised seafood retail outlets in mainland Australia fresh and in the dried form.

Kombu, Saccharina japonica, is a kelp cultivated in China and other Eastern marine coasts.

A rich source of glutamic acid, it is an ideal substitute for MSG and is used generally in cooking legumes to make them more easily digestible.

Since the 50s, when some 22,000 tonnes pa were imported from Japan, the Chinese have developed the cultivation to an advanced degree, now producing over 6 million tonnes pa!

Re-hydrated, Kombu is a one of the now-described 'Super Foods', having most of the nutrients required in the daily diet.

Dulse, dillisk, creathnach, red sea-lettuce, Palmaria palmata, is considered to have the highest content of protein (16%) and iron of the algae. Dulse contains all the trace elements.

Use fresh in sandwiches and as a snack prepared as a relish; fried (tastes like bacon, with twice the nutritional value as kale); or dried and ground as a miso additive and flavour enhancer. It is fermented with julienned daikon to make a marvellous kimchi.

Seaweeds are available from Chinese, Korean, Irish and Icelandic sources. Seaweed from Japan could be a problem though – check its health status!

Fermented dulse with daikon

Ingredients

7 shallot (sliced into 15 mm lengths)
500gm daikon (julienned)
20 cloves garlic (chopped into chunks)
½ tblsp cooking salt
50gm dried dulse in 500ml of boiled and cooled water

Method

Rub salt into the daikon, rest for 3 hours. Mix, daikon, garlic dulse, mix vigorously, add shallots and pack into sealable jars, leave at room temperature, loose-lidded.

Press down daily until mix is covered by liquid, leave for 7 days until fermenting has stopped. Close tight and store out of light until required.

Culpeper is now preparing a number of Kimchis utilising the marine plant species.

Her, dir Spike Jonze
Reviewed by Toni Balonius

The next film at Nimbin's iconic Bush Theatre is an unusual one: it deals with the theme of love... Not the slightest bit 'unusual', you may think, except that this love story is between a lonely man and a software program.

Simply titled, Her, this slightly sci-fi movie (set in the near-future) was first released in the US in late 2013 and has won many awards, including an Oscar for Best Screenplay. Written and directed by Spike Jonze, known for his work directing music videos for the likes of Sonic Youth, REM, and Bjork, and for directing the groundbreaking 1999 film, Being John Malkovich, this cinematic gem explores the relationship between modern humans with each other and with our ever-evolving technological systems.

The film's main character, Theodore Twombly, played with delicacy by Joaquin Phoenix, is a heartbroken writer who is dealing with the fallout of his marriage and his impending divorce. In his isolation and loneliness, he acquires a software programme that is able to shape itself to his every emotional need, even though its (or 'her') only physical presence is through the sound waves of a gentle, empathic, seductive female voice (played by Scarlett Johansson) that travel from his earpiece into his mind. Notably, the film almost won another Oscar for its suitably ambient soundtrack.

The operating system, known as 'Samantha', becomes his closest companion and he rediscovers love in a manner that is reminiscent of Kate Bush's prescient 1989 song, Deeper Understanding... Meanwhile, the intricacies of what humans yearn for in relationships unravel and entwine amongst the film's characters in a way that countless critics have applauded as being funny, insightful, heartfelt, intelligent, and creative. Radio National critic Jason Di Rosso has even gone so far as to suggest that the film deals with more than our yearning to connect with ourselves or each other, but more loftily examines our relationship with the divine or god (since Samantha represents an omniscient being that is always out of Theodore's ultimate reach).

Whilst beautifully shot and styled, this isn't a movie littered with all of the bells and whistles found in most modern suspense thrillers or action movies, but it does delve deeply into the world of what really turns you on. This Australian release of Her is rated 'MA' (unlike the US 'R'-rated version), which could be a good thing given that numerous online parental guidance sites have suggested that this holds much potential as a vehicle through which younger generations can contemplate the nuances of their psychosexual needs and desires, both with and without technological mediation. As legendary Oz film critic

David Stratton suggests, this film is likely to linger in your consciousness long after the credits have rolled, and that, who knows, you just may connect more deeply with others (and yourself) because of it.

Come and see for yourself. Fittingly, after losing his Bringabong shop to the 2014 Nimbin fire, this film screening is showing hot on the heels of the first anniversary of that fire, thus providing the now restaurateur/venue manager, David Hyett, with an opportunity to celebrate/commemorate loss, love, and the future of relationships with this thought-provoking cinematic offering.

Her will screen at the Bush Theatre on Friday 14th August. There's an option of dinner beforehand (from 5.30pm) at the Phoenix Rising Café next door ($20 dinner/film deal), or just seeing the movie itself from 7pm ($10 film only). There will be free music on the Phoenix stage from 5.30pm also and, as usual, the outside fires will be burning to help keep everyone warm. Tickets are available either at the door or online: www.nimbinbushtheatre.com/events

Retracing Banksy's New York visit

by Benny Zable

While flying out of Sydney over the Pacific toward Los Angeles on Qantas Flight 11, I came across Banksy Does New York.

It is a documentary about the legendary British street artist Banksy's month-long residency of happenings with friends and foes alike, played out throughout the month of October 2013 in New York City.

The way Banksy played out his residency was by utilising social media by creating something new everyday during the month of October in the form of a treasure hunt.

I remember well being one of those on the scavenger hunt to find a Banksy, but did not catch any of them in my search.

I see a lot in common with the Dada artist movement (described by mainstream as an anti-art movement) which developed in desperate times between the first and second world wars, tackling similar themes of questioning the art movement of today and expressed in the street art movements of today.

On further researching the street art/graffiti movement, I came across another documentary, Banksy versus Robbo and the Graffiti War. Robbo and Banksy were two different artists, bombing the streets of London. Robbo was a freehand artist, whereas Banksy prepared his work by cutting stencils. In this documentary, Banksy is believed to have been influenced by a French street artist, who created a stencil character, Blek the Rat. Where I am living in New York, graffiti have been painted up or covered up. I went out to Zabars, a well-known deli in New York, one of the places Banksy had stencilled. No sign of anything around, except a photo in the window of the stencil he did on their wall. All have been removed.

The Nimbin street art creations began with Vernon Treweeke during the Nimbin Aquarius festival in 1973, and since then, Nimbin's street art has morphed in many ways.

The Banksy Does New York doco would be a great one to show in Nimbin, especially now during the process of rebuilding the central heart of town. Our area has many creatives with some outstanding street art creds. What a great time to create a new fresh stream of ideas for the heart of Nimbin.

Over the airwaves

with Bob Tissot

Hello, and welcome to On Air, Nim-FM's frequency-neutral radio show. It's good to be with you again.

And firstly, I'd like to thank all those people who renewed their membership during the last month. Nim-FM only survives with your support, through membership, volunteering and sponsorship. And welcome aboard to our newest sponsor; W.T.F. Printing. Your stateroom is on the upper deck; enjoy the cruise.

July has been a slightly anxious month in the office, as it appeared that our new Broadcast Desk had vanished somewhere between Perth and Nimbin. Phone calls and emails to the manufacturer went unanswered and two out of three TNT staff thought it hadn't been picked up (the third thought it had but didn't know where it was now).

After three weeks of ever-increasing panic, finally managed to patch through a call; found the factory (it had moved) and found the desk (waiting for a final part). So... during August, fingers crossed.

Now it's time for Spotlight, where we shine the light behind the microphone.

OA: OK. Today we're talking with Neil, who brings you Second Breakfast every Tuesday morning at ten, with five times the daily allowance of everything. So Neil, how did you get involved with community radio?

Neil: I started with 2NCR (now River FM) when they were broadcasting at the university. I was doing a sociology course at the time and started doing announcements on air as part of my community service requirements. Then I started bringing in a little bit of music and social comment and before you know it, it was my program. Five years ago I moved to Nimbin, walked into Nim-FM and signed up. I couldn't believe my luck when I got my own show, All Over the Joint at 8am, which morphed into Second Breakfast at 10am.

OA: So what can listeners expect on Second Breakfast?

Neil: Basically, I like to explore themes and stitch them together with bits of comedy. I used to make up cassettes forty years ago with lots of weird stuff between the songs.

OA: Yes. I've noticed your penchant for advertisements and announcements from the 1920's and 1930's.

Neil: Yes. It was such a different world then. They're historical from a time before television, so everything had to contain so much information. Everything was new. Even cigarettes were curative! We were so naïve, such dumb-fucks back then.

OA: Any favourite musical genres?

Neil: Bob, I've got four older siblings growing up through the sixties. Everything from musicals to metal. I was swamped with it and absorbed the lot.

OA: So what does Mr. Second Breakfast do away from the microphone.

Neil: Eat well, walk, live in the bush with the wildlife; most of whom seem to be keen to move in. That's about it.

OA: Neil, thanks for chatting.

Neil: Always a pleasure.

OK, new music. Both these CDs have been out for a few months but I'm still really loving them. The first is a reworking of Midnight Oil's Diesel & Dust put together and produced by Declan Kelly. It's called Diesel & Dub and features a number of Australia's best Indigenous vocalists, which in my opinion brings the lyrics full-circle and grounds them firmly in the country that inspired them.

The other CD, also inspired by country and place is called Shep Life by Briggs, and it's a raw, sometimes brutal look at growing up in Shepperton. This is such a great album, the guest appearance of Gurrumul is just icing on the cake. Ciao.

Raising a roof for muscular dystrophy

The world according to Magenta Appel-Pye

My niece, Jemimah and her husband, Ben are amazing people. They are parents to beautiful triplets. At six months old, the trio still couldn't lift their heads. Tests finally revealed all three were suffering from muscular dystrophy, a muscle-wasting disease that affects motor neurone skills and causes respiratory illness.

The news was a crushing blow for Jemimah, 29, and her husband, Ben, 28. "When they mentioned the word wheelchair, I knew my children's lives would never be normal," Jemimah says, and admits her day-to-day life is completely hectic.

The day starts before the children are even awake, as she and Ben try to enjoy a cup of coffee together. "It's usually interrupted by someone needing the toilet or being turned in bed because they're sore," explains Jemimah, of Canowindra, NSW.

Then begins the full-on mission of washing, dressing and feeding the kids before school.

"I try to focus on the positive side of it all," Jemimah says. "They make so many people smile with their crazy personalities and the chaos they cause when they come speeding down the street. My life has completely changed since having them. I like to think I am a better person for it."

Join a family's journey and help realise their need..

Now eight years old, Mahalah, Anwen and Gideon's needs have outgrown their modified cottage. They have a long-term vision of a wheelchair-friendly home. With swimming the only exercise the triplets can do, stage two of the build will include a hydrotherapy pool. A block of land has been purchased outside of Canowindra, and plans are being drawn up with fundraising in full swing.

The Venus cycle

by Marilyn Scott

Another big month... they just keep rolling in. We begin the month with a radiant burst of Full Moon Aquarian energy, time to break the moulds, free our self from the chains of doubt and fear. The Leo Sun gives focus to our creative self-expression, our warm loving hearts and our desire to play our part on this great stage of Life.

Venus is currently in her retrograde cycle. The great Venus cycle, honoured by many ancient cultures; her eight year journey around the zodiac... creating a five pointed star ~ the pentagram. In astrology, Venus represents the feminine principle, love, beauty, resources, money... and most importantly what we value. Her retrograde cycle lasts 40 days and 40 nights. The mathematical precision behind this amazing creation is mind blowing. So what does it mean? Well, I reckon you'll be feeling it. Nothing happens in a vacuum, nothing moves without affecting everything else. We get a peek at the magnificence of this creation, and even that leaves us awestruck.

I'm feeling a lot around issues of self-love ~ how I care for myself. Big things are happening behind the scenes. I feel I'm being called to take another major step... to love myself without conditions or exceptions; self-love is the basis of everything. Putting ourself first ~ how often do we let that slide? How do we honour ourself? How do we shower love and kindness on our physical body? Do we honour our deepest values?

Or do we allow the values of others to override? What means more to me than anything? Do I honour that, each and every day?

Every eight years Venus completes her five-pointed star ~ during June to September 2007 Venus made a similar point. A similar pattern may be presenting or even a breakthrough. I remember that time clearly. My new business Magick Moments was only a year old, yet I was feeling restless and distracted... I could feel the rumblings of big changes approaching. I decided to take off for a few days to clear my head, hoping I'd come back and continue with the business I'd worked so hard to create. My partner had bought the house in Woodenbong, so I decided to go down for a few days; maybe the country air would clear my head.

Breathing in the mountain air, those magickal night skies... the stars, the quiet, the birds, I lapped it up. There was a blood red, total Full Moon eclipse the evening I arrived. I sat outside in the garden and watched it, till my eyes could stay open no longer. Next morning I went out on the deck, breathing the clean country air into my lungs. It was immediate... I couldn't believe what my eyes were seeing. I think I must have stretched them open, and shook my head a bit. I looked again, there was no doubt... everything had changed.

Everything had changed... I looked at the grass, the trees, the sky, the birds... oh yes they looked the same as they always do, in a physical sense. But what I was seeing was that everything had changed. I was shocked and didn't really know what it meant. I started asking the grass, the trees, and the sky 'how do you feel?' That may sound weird, but I wanted to know how they were feeling after this extraordinary transformation.

A few days later I returned to the city and my healing centre. This sense of urgency had grown, not receded. I tried my best to ignore it. After all I'd worked so hard to create my beautiful healing centre. The days passed, the nagging sense remained, with me still trying to ignore it. Then one morning at the breakfast table this heavy hand smashed down on the table, I felt it shake... and this booming voice roared "NOW".

"Okay, okay I get the message," I said.

Nine months later my home and health centre packed up, everything in storage... I took off for Adelaide. Happy Venus cycle.

Sat 4th July Headers v Woodburn

Woodburn were bottom of the table, having played 11 games and lost them all, letting in an average of 7.5 goals, and only scoring 1 a match, and as they only turned up with the bare minimum of seven players they were not likely to improve on that stat.

But credit is due to them for turning up, rather than throwing in the towel and giving the Headers a 3-0 score line.

This game started late as the referee allowed some time to see if any more Woodburn players would turn up, as they only had six. Unluckily for them one did, so they all had to see out the 90 minutes.

As you can guess it was a goal fest by the Headers and it was 10-0 with half an hour to go in the match, when the headers went 7 on 7, but still scored another 5 goals in that period.

The scores for the Headers were: Gary Whisker 4, Micheal Longmuir 3, Samson Madley 2, Finn Floate 2, Harry Waddington, Mark Wright, Ruben Garcia and Ted Cox 1 each.

Men's 2nd Division

Sat 4th July Headers v Rovers

Before this game, Rovers are bottom with only two draws and Headers are second on goal difference from two other teams.

As soon as the game starts, Rovers have a shot, but off-target. Headers forward Chilo Pike runs at the defence taking the ball to the goal line, he goes past one defender and shoots. Rovers' keeper spills the ball and Chilo gets a second chance, but this time the keeper holds onto it.

Headers are playing a nice passing game now and the away keeper has already saved three shots on target. Headers wing forward Ruben Mack shoots, but just past the post. He then has two more shots, this time on target, but the keeper saves.

With a few minutes to go before half time, the Rovers have a corner. A great cross is met with a great header by a tall Rovers midfielder who smacks the ball into the left-hand corner of the net, so at half time the visitors are ahead one-nil.

This is a free flowing game with both teams looking like they could take the three points, but on the 10-minute mark Headers have a shot that the Rovers keeper claws out of the air. Three minutes later the Headers level it up with a fine taken goal from Ruben Mack.

Then Rovers hit the post and later score from another corner: Headers 1 Rovers 2.

Now the Headers are asking all the questions and Rovers don't have the answers, and it's not too long before the Headers are equal as Ruben Mack gets his brace.

And then the Nimbin Headers get two goals in two minutes to devastate Rovers, as Chilo Pike mesmerises the defence to put his team in front, then Ruben Mack gets his hat-trick to put the icing on the cake to keep that second spot on the ladder. Bring on Lennox at home.

Final score: Nimbin Headers 4 Richmond Rovers 2.

Women's 5th Division

Sun 5th July Headers v Workers

Four minutes in the Headers have a corner, but it's cleared.

Some nice play by Headers winger Jasmine Evans who lays the ball off to striker Gabriella Morahan who slots the ball past the Workers keeper, and it's Headers 1-0.

It was quite a warm day, so the referee added two extra drinks breaks.

Another lovely pass to Headers centre forward Gabe Morahan who takes the ball to the goal line after passing one defender, then crossing the ball, which took a slight deflection off another defender past the keeper. Two Headers were running onto it, and Anna King was first to the ball, stroking it into the net to make the score Headers 2 Workers 0. Even though the Workers are having the odd attack, they are not really worrying the Headers Defence.

A great clearing kick out of defence over the top, and the Headers centre forward is on to it with the Workers defence trying to catch up. It's one on one with the keeper and Gabe calmly slots the ball past the stranded keeper to make it 3-0.

The Headers centre forward is through on goal again, but fires it at the keeper who palms the ball down and regathers. With time running out in the first half, Headers winger Jasmine Evans dribbles the ball into the penalty box, turns and shoots, but hits the post.

The second half is more of a midfield encounter, with Workers trying to get some of the deficit back which left them vulnerable.

Jasmine Evans heads a cross onto the Workers nearside post, and the ball is cleared. Then Workers No. 6 has a run and a shot but the Headers keeper was looking to keep a clean sheet today.

With the whistle fast approaching, the Headers centre forward Gabe is one-on-one again, but fires the ball wide of the far post.

So the game ends Nimbin Headers 3 Lismore Workers 0.

My woman of the match goes to the Headers wing half Jasmine Evans who was very unlucky not to score, and she put her hand up to be on the bench for Third division and kept her enthusiasm up in that game too.

Sun 5th July Headers v Alstonville

Before this game, Alstonville were on 22 points in fourth spot on the ladder and Nimbin Headers were 11 points adrift in seventh spot.

A nice flowing game with both teams testing each other out, and with 18 minutes gone the Headers have a shot on goal and the Villa keeper just gets her foot to it to deflect the ball wide. A few moments later, another shot by the Headers, just wide.

And at half time the score is Nimbin Headers 0 Alstonville 0.

Three minutes into the second half, Tessa Rutley (who troubled Villa in the first stanza) has a shot just inside the penalty box that whistles past the post and bar junction. Ten minutes gone, a shot from the Headers goes past the same post.

With 20 minutes down, Headers forward Tessa Rutley is through the defence and one-on-one with the Villa keeper and she strokes the ball past her before she is knocked to the ground and lying on her back. 1-0 to the Nimbin Headers.

The Headers have a few more attacks, and in the end Alstonville, with their high-flying status, are lucky to get away from Nimbin only one down.

Men's 6th Division

Sat 11th July Headers v Alstonville

Early in the game, Headers Geri Price-Jones has a shot, but the Villa keeper saves.

Some nice moves by the Alstonville midfield to the forwards that avoids the offside trap, and the ball is stroked into the net for the opening goal of the game.

Villa are through again and win a corner, but nothing comes of it. Then Headers player Micheal Longmuir scores to send the teams into the break one-all.

In the second half, left wing player for the Headers, Gary Whisker has a run at the Villa defence and has a shot which is stopped by the keeper but not held, and the ball spills out to Headers forward Finlay Floate who dribbles it around the floored keeper to make the score Headers 2 Alstonville 1.

Finlay Floate scores again, but is judged to be offside.

Headers player Micheal Longmuir scores a lovely goal firing one passed the Villa keeper to put the Headers well in charge at 3-1.

And to put the icing on the cake, Gary Whisker races towards goal and smacks the ball past the keeper at the near post. Final score: Headers 4 Alstonville 1

Men's 2nd Division

Sat 11th July Headers v Alstonville

Early in the match Headers midfielder Tom World has a shot, just over the bar. Headers have a corner and from that play Chilo Pike shoots, but it's saved by the keeper.

From a free kick for the Headers on the left hand side, the ball is driven in hard and it bobbles up off a defender and when it drops down, Headers forward Ruben Mack hammers the ball into the net. Headers 1 Alstonville 0.

Alstonville now on the attack, and a shot is fired in but the Headers keeper saves.

Just before half time, Ruben Mack is felled in the box. He takes the penalty and makes the score Headers 2 Alstonville 0.

After some lovely passing by the Headers, a ball is chipped over the top to wing forward Huon Campbell who hits the ball across the keeper and just inside the far post. Headers 3 Alstonville 0.

A free kick for Alstonville is hit hard and the ball spills out to a Villa defender who smacks it back into the net so the final score ended up Headers 3 Alstonville 1.

Women's 3rd Division

Sun 12th July Headers v Bangalow

About 20 minutes into the game Headers forward Tessa Rutley is brought down by the Bangalow keeper in the box (who gets a yellow card) and is awarded a penalty, which she thumps past the keeper. Headers 1 Bangalow 0.

A couple of minutes later, Sarah Jakeman for the Headers, shoots but it's wide of the goal.

Nimbin is on the attack again, and a shot is put on target – the keeper saves, but can't hold on to the ball which spills out to Tessa Rutley who does not miss. Headers 2 Bangalow 0, and that's how the first half finishes.

The second half sees a lovely run down the left wing by Headers Ashlee Jones who puts in a cross, which is kicked out for a corner, and soon after, Headers forward Tessa Rutley shoots past the keeper and hits the post.

About 14 minutes into the second half, Headers Tessa is through on goal again and doesn't miss this time: Headers 3 Bangalow 0.

Bangalow get a late conciliation goal as a Headers defender does an air swing and the nippy No.7 Bangalow forward latches onto the ball and slots it in to make the full time score Nimbin Headers 3 Bangalow 1.

Men's 6th Division

Sat 18th July Headers v Kyogle

The Headers could only muster 9 player for this match with players away or injured, and a few went to Brisbane to watch their beloved Liverpool the night before, with two players turning up, one before and one on half-time.

And the mood Kyogle was in, the Headers weren't going to win this one. It wasn't too long before Kyogle thumped in their first goal.

With 23 minutes down, Headers did muster an attack with forward Geri Price-Jones heading a looping ball which landed on the crossbar and out for a goal kick.

Then two minutes later, Headers keeper Nigel Hayes makes two saves, one after the other.

A Kyogle winger's away on the right, with a hard angle. He shoots, and the Headers keeper tips it onto the post and out for a corner. So at half time the Headers are only one down.

Headers midfielder Paul O'Reilly has a bustling run at the defence, and hits a volley that smacks against the post and bar junction.

Then next minute Kyogle get a jammy goal – the ball falls just right for an attacker, leaving the Headers keeper stranded, Headers 0 Kyogle 2.

About 24 minutes down, Kyogle have a corner and from the cross the ball seems to fall into the net. 3-0 Kyogle. Two minutes later, a cracking shot from Kyogle extends the lead to 4-0.

The Headers kick a shot off the goal line, and later have a free kick, which is hit just wide.

Kyogle get a fifth goal as a Headers defender has an air swing and the ball trickles into the net. 5-0 Kyogle.

Men's 2nd Division

Sat 18th July Headers v Kyogle

This game was similar in circumstances to the 6th division game, with players in short demand.

The Headers start OK with a couple of shots on target. Kyogle weathered that little storm but weren't setting the world on fire, and so at the break the score was nil-all.

But at the start of the second half, Kyogle create an opening with a lovely cross up the middle of the park and a forward running onto it just smashes the ball past the Headers keeper: 1-0 Kyogle.

The Headers get a free kick that is fired in, but just curls away from the post.

With about 15 minutes to go in the game, Kyogle get a well-worked goal to secure the points. The Headers have a shot, but over the bar to round up the game.

Nimbin Headers 0 Kyogle 2.

Women's 5th Division

Sun 19th July Headers v Pottsville

Before the match started, Pottsville were in third spot on the ladder on 22 points and the Headers were in fifth spot on 13 points. A good contested game was anticipated, and it turned out to be just that.

The opening action saw the Headers on the attack and having a shot on goal, but way too soft. Then up the other end, Pottsville have one from just outside the box, but outside the post.

With Headers on the attack again, there's a collision in the box and a Headers player has to come off the field. Headers forward

nimbin.goodtimes@gmail.com

Rianbow Lacher take the ball to the goal line and passes one defender and shoots, and the keeper, not handling the shot, puts the ball out for a corner. Later Headers' Virginia Waters was through on goal and shoots, the keeper fumbles but regathers. Now the Headers are getting on top of the team who are 9 points above them on the ladder.

Some great play by Headers Jasmine Evans from a throw-in where she gets the ball back and hits a lovely cross that catches the Pottsville defence out as the ball falls to a Headers forward who passes the ball on to Virginia Waters who fires the ball at the goal. The Pottsville keeper saves, but the ball spills back to Virginia Waters who make no mistake second time around. And so the first half finishes Nimbin Headers 1 Pottsville 0.

The second half was a mirror image of the first with the Headers dominating, but not being able to score. And towards the end of the game it turned into one team trying to equalise and the other team trying to seal up the game.

Women's 3rd Division

Sun 19th July Headers v Kyogle

Before everyone in the crowd had settled down, Headers forward Tessa Rutley is through on goal and calmly pushes the ball past the keeper: Headers 1 Kyogle 0.

Tessa puts a pass across the box, but Lauren Jefferys over-runs the ball and Kyogle clear. Then the Headers hit the post. Kyogle are living a charmed life.

Headers centre half Myfanwy Stirling runs straight through the Kyogle defence and squares the ball to Taylor Moses who slots it in. Headers 2 Kyogle 0.

Right on half-time Simone Rutley has a shot, but it's just wide. So the half time score is Headers 2 Kyogle 0.

Simone Rutley for the Headers has another shot, which is cleared, but only to Myfanwy Stirling who shoots over the top of the defence, catching the Kyogle keeper off her line, and the ball floats into the middle of the net. Headers 3 Kyogle 0.

Tessa Rutley gets two more goals to give her a hat-trick for the game and make the final score Nimbin Headers 5 Kyogle 0.

Women's 5th Division

Sun 26th July Headers v Rovers

For the first 10 minutes, the Headers were having trouble getting out of their own half. Rovers have three corners in a row with one shot on goal, but an easy save by the Headers keeper.

With about 20 minutes gone, Rovers have a fine shot on goal and the Headers keeper Debra Lindsey makes a tricky save seem easy.

Nimbin Headers get some passes strung together, but the final attempted is too high and floats over the bar. At half-time, it's Nimbin Headers 0 Richmond Rovers 0.

After the break, Rovers attack with a lob, trying to chip the keeper, but a nice take keeps it 0-0.

The next Rovers attack with a low hard shot finds the net just inside the left post with the Headers keeper desperately trying to keep it out. Her gloves touch the ball, but can't save it. Nimbin Headers 0 Richmond Rovers 1.

Rovers had a lot of corners in this game, and the Headers defence deserve a wrap for keeping the score down to one, and if their main scorer had played, things would have been different.

Nimbin Headers Juniors

by Mark Whitlen

The Nimbin Headers Grade 14 team is a solid group of young men and women, who have been playing together (mostly) for several seasons.

This season they welcomed a new player Igor, who with his outstanding skills and personality, fits in well and is proving an asset to this strong team. Long time player Frewoini has been out injured for most of the season, and the team eagerly awaits her return to the pitch.

This year, new coach Steve Waddington has guided the kids to a strong position with the Grade 14's currently placed third on the 2nd Division ladder, and on-track as finals contenders.

This team shows admirable team spirit, and great sportsmanship, and are a credit to themselves, their parents and their club. Most of all, they have fun together!

The first two weekends of August are big ones for the Headers club, with eight

"A gratifying experience"

Buying your first house can be a scary, almost paralysing experience.

I've been in and out of Nimbin over years, dating back to the first Aquarius Festival. Got the phone call: "I think we've found the house for you – get yourself up here and we'll pick you up at the airport."

I was nervous and apprehensive – it's not an easy mid-life adjustment to dispose of several hundreds of thousands of dollars after living on a shoestring most of your life. Everyone was telling me, "Be careful, Real Estate Agents use all sorts of tricks..." but Nimbin Hills were ready to go the extra yards, so I went with them.

It turned out to be a happy experience. I got a good house for a fair price. When I met the vendor a month or so later, she was happy too. Seems that Nimbin Hills Real Estate have a real talent for matching the requirements of both the buyer and the vendor.

Local knowledge, and a genuine willingness to work in with the local community makes them my Real Estate agency of choice.

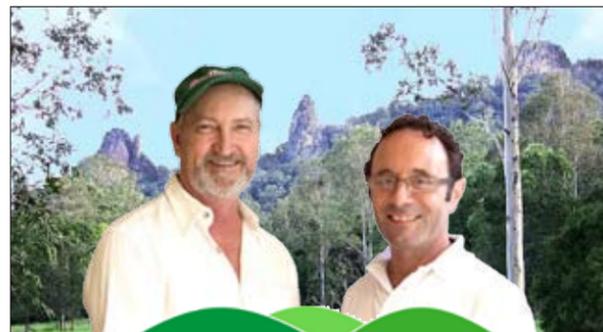

The staff seem to have a sense of honesty and responsibility to the community and its members that goes beyond the elemental commercial concerns, and is expressed in their extraordinarily helpful approach to the client.

Post-sale advice that went above and beyond the call of duty of the 'deal' made my first home purchase a gratifying experience.
